

Open Book Project is committed to taking the mystery out of sexuality education for Australian families.

Kerrin Bradfield (she/they) is a Clinical Sexologist and Accredited Sexuality Educator. Kerrin is the founder of Open Book Project (previously Gold Coast Sexology) working as a highly respected and sought-after educator, speaker, and mentor.

Kerrin has delivered sexuality education to thousands of people from school students to United Nations staff. She is passionate about supporting other sexologists, practitioners, educators, and organisations to implement training and policy that support a sex-wise and inclusive culture.

By providing mentoring, curriculum development, audit and assessment, and a range of courses and masterclasses, Kerrin actively works to create meaningful social change around sexuality, gender, and gender-based violence.

Speaking topics:

- Sexuality Education in schools
- Pornography and sexualised culture
- NDIS, Disability, and sexuality
- Aged Care (Elder Sexual Abuse)
- Sexual health and wellbeing
- Respectful relationships
- Sexual violence
- Consent
- Schoolies Week
- Gender diversity
- Sex therapy
- and more...

Kerrin Bradfield is an invited member of the World Association of Sexual Health, Sexual Rights Committee and the current Queensland President and National Deputy Chair of the Society of Australian Sexologists. www.societyaustraliansexologists.org.au

Phone: 0407 449 852

Email: info@openbookproject.com.au

Website: www.openbookproject.com.au

